EAGL 2024 Honors

Gymnasts of the Week: Junior Sarah Zois (Crofton, Md.) from George Washington and sophomore Syd Morris (Landenburg, Pa.) were named EAGL Co-Gymnasts of the Week on January 17. Zois placed first on vault at the Lindsey Ferris Invitational with a score of 9.850. The Maryland native also set career highs on beam (9.9) and floor (9.875), beating her previous career high on floor by 1.2 points. Syd Morris posted a 9.975 on beam at LIU's first meet to win the event, tying the school record and receiving a perfect score from one judge. With that score, they are currently tied for first in the NCAA rankings on beam. Morris received their second first place finish on all-around, posting the second highest score in LIU program history of 39.375.

Specialist of the Week: Sophomore Serena Mullin (Hamden, Conn.) of New Hampshire and junior Elise Tisler (Fairfax Station, Va.) of Towson were voted EAGL Co-Specialists of the Week on January 17. Mullin tied her career high of 9.8 on vault, previously accomplished in her collegiate debut on Jan. 9 2023. She went on to post a 9.825 on beam, the highest score for New Hampshire, placing second overall. Mullin concluded the meet competing in the floor lineup for her first time, logging a 9.750 which was the third best mark for the Wildcats. Elise Tisler set a new career high of 9.850 on vault, placing fifth overall. She logged a 9.800 on floor which is only .05 off of her career best.

Rookie of the Week: Freshman Kate Parks (Lebanon, Ohio) from LIU was voted EAGL Rookie of the Week on January 17. In her first collegiate meet Parks tied for third overall on bars with a 9.775. The Ohio native anchored for the Sharks on vault, posting a 9.75 to tie for ninth.
