GYMNAST OF THE WEEK:

Senior Cami Drouin-Allaire (Shoreham, NY) of George Washington earned her fourth overall and second-straight EAGL Gymnast of the Week honor on March 6th, after posting the highest all-around in the league this season during the Colonial's two-meet weekend where they went 5-0. On Sunday against Maryland, Rutgers and Towson, Drouin-Allaire broke her career-high score for the third-straight meet with a conference-high 39.600, an all-around score that ranks second in program history. The senior co-captain also finished the day on the podium in all four events while matching her season-high on vault, breaking her career-high on bars, and posting a team-high 9.900 on floor. On Friday, at Towson with Rutgers, Drouin-Allaire also won the all-around (39.525), floor (9.900) and tied for first on beam (9.875). Drouin-Allaire has broken the 39.000 threshold in the all-around seven out of nine weeks this season. She ranks No. 1 in EAGL and No. 12 in the Nation for all-around. Additionally, she ranks No. 1 in EAGL and No. 6 in the Nation on vault.

SPECIALIST OF THE WEEK:

Junior Cortni Baker (Andover, Mass.) of Towson and sophomore Khazia Hislop (Concord, Mass.) earned EAGL Co-Specialist of the Week honors on March 6th. During Towson's second meet of the weekend where the Tigers totaled the fourth-highest team score in school history (and second-highest under Coach May), Baker posted a 9.875 on vault for second. This was just 0.025 below her career-best she posted on Friday night (9.900), which is the 10th-highest score in program history. Baker also tied for second on bars (9.875) on Friday night and contributed on three events in each of the Tigers' two meets during Week Nine. Currently she ranks No. 4 (tied with Madison Nettles of UNC) in the league on vault.

Hislop earned her third-straight honor after getting to the podium on each of her three events against the No. 6 team in the Nation (Alabama). She tied for first on vault (9.875), tied for second on beam (9.900) and tied for third on floor (9.900). Currently, she is ranked 1st in the EAGL and tied for 13th in the nation on floor with an RQS of 9.910. The sophomore extended her streak of earning at least 9.900 on floor to five consecutive meets. Her performance makes this her fourth straight competition earning at least 9.800 in all three events and her third time receiving at least two scores of 9.900+ in one competition.

ROOKIE OF THE WEEK:

Freshman Haley Brechwald (Springfield, Va.) of Pittsburgh earned her fifth EAGL Rookie of the Week Award on March 6th after totaling a career-high 39.375 all-around which is tied for fourth in program history. In Pitt's 2-1 finish against Penn State, West Virginia and Temple, Brechwald earned the Panther's lone individual event title in scoring a season-high 9.875 on beam, adding to the team's four-best mark in program history. Additionally, she finished tied for second on floor with a 9.875, while finishing in the top ten on both vault with a sixth place finish and a ninth place finish on bars.
